Project LIFEAT WH/Mexico (Audio-surveillance)

1. LIFEAT's 36 disseminations for this review period equal the previous year's production -- both, however, were only half the volume of previous years. While slightly more than half received teletype dissemination, subjects are of routine interest to customers. Eleven reports dealt with Yugoslav efforts to establish economic relations; fifteen, with the whereabouts and activities of Arevalo, former President of Guatemala, and his family; four, reported ties with the USSR and Poland; four, ties with Cuba and Cuba's commercial efforts; and three, other Latin American ties.

2. Customers doubtless would welcome an increase in coverage of Bloc and Cuban activities, were it possible to increase reporting.

3. The renewal request, page 2, says "the emphasis of the LIFEAT Project is on station operational support." Because of this and the run-of-the-mill value of the positive reporting, this Branch can properly do no more than CONCUR IN A RECOMMENDATION FOR RENEWAL.
